

Using Litigation to Shape Gun Violence Policy

A presentation of the Civil Justice Research Initiative and the UCI Law Guest Speaker Series

FEATURED SPEAKER

Richard Bridgford
of Bridgford, Gleason & Artinian

Richard Bridgford, founder and managing partner of a Newport Beach litigation law firm, draws upon his experience and his representation of hundreds of victims of the 2017 Las Vegas shooting to discuss how litigation can be an effective public policy tool for the adoption of federal laws mandating background checks and an assault weapons ban.
